A REAVY DEFALCATION. THE BOOKKEEPER OF ISAAC SMITH'S SON & COM-PANY REPORTED TO HAVE ABSCONDED WITH

Isaac Smith's Son & Co., manufacturers of um-brellas at No. 405 Broadway, the oldest house in the trade, were reported yesterday to be seriously embarrassed by the defaleation of bert W. Steele, their late bookkeeper, Robert W. Steele, their late bookkeeper, who has disappeared, having, it is alleged, taken money of the firm to the amount of $60,000. James T. Smith, the senior partner, vesterday declined to say anything whatever in relation to their reported embarrassment or the defalcation, but from other sources it was learned that the bookkeeper disappeared suddenly several weeks ago, and that he has not since been heard from. He was very highly esteemed by the firm, having been connected with the house for many years, and from 1872 to 1875 a partner. Implicit confidence was placed in him, and he was not suspected of any irregularities until after his sudden departure, when his books were examined, disclosing, it is said, many questionable transactions. It was currently reported in the trade two weeks ago that there had been a defalcation, the amount being placed at $50,000, but Mr. Smith them assured inquirers that the amount was a here trifle, and would not affect the firm at all. He further stated that he fell so corry for the man and his family, who were highly respectable, that the firm would not prosecute him. At the Ninth National Bartk, where the firm kept their bank account, it was learned that the bank was not a creditor, the firm's line of discount having just run out. The runnor that Mr. Steele had forged checks by raising the amounts from small to large ones was disproved by the bank officials as far as the checks received by the bank officials as far as the checks received by the bank officials as far as the checks having been found in any presented. Mr. Hill, the president, said that Mr. Smith had come to the bank on Saturday and informed him that the bookkeeper had dermuded the firm and he feared the amount would be $60,000; he thought it unwise to go on paying notes until he saw how matters stood, and asked that anybody presenting their paper be referred to the firm. He had not made further inquiries, as the bank was not a creditor. has disappeared, having, it is alleged,

It is proposed to erect a mammoth glass and from areade which will extend 1,000 feet on Eighth-ave, and 450 feet on One-inindred-and-lifty-fifti-st. The building will be forty feet high and seventy-five feet deep. The plan is to divide it into all sorts of stores except liquor or eigar shops, requiring each proprietor to become a part owner by subscribing to a certain share of the stock. The estimated cost of the areade will be $275,000. An extensive promenade will surmount the building, and rustic seats will accommodate the lovers of river and garden scenery. Between the main building and the areade will be the garden, which will be laid out in walks, fountains, lakes, islands, and will contain the cages of wild animals. It is stated that arrangements have already been suid agents here and abroad to secure the finest specimens that can be purchased, while for the botanical line an appropriation of $40,000 has already been set apart. A tound-house will be erected at St. Nicholassave, and One-handred-and-filty-fifth-st, capable of accommodating 1,000 teams. It is claimed that the location of this garden will furnish peculiar facilities for citizens who desire to visit 1?; It is easily reached by the cars of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company and by the Hudson River trains and the Harlem River boots, while the Southern Bonlevard bounds its southern limit and McComb's Dam Bridge is only a short distance away.

BURNED TO DEATH IN HIS OWN HOUSE. The house of John Johnson, in Tompkinsville, S. I., was discovered to be on fire at 3 a. m. yesterday, and by the time the firemen arrived the flames had made rapid progress. The rumor that Mr. Johnson and his family were perishing in the flames was widely circulated, and for a time caused intense excitements. Notwithstanding that the firemen made vigorous efforts to save the building, it was almost entirely consumed. Mrs. Johnson and the others of the family, with the exception of the husband, were tessed from the second story windows. When it was learned that he was still in the burning building the firemen were repeatedly called upon to save his life, but they could do nothing then to rescue the unfortunate man.

When the flames were extinguished the firemen and police entered the building and the charted remains of Johnson were discovered. It is believed that he lost his life to attempting to save some valuable papers. He was sevently years of age, a German by high, and had been a resident of Staten island for the aust triangle and the flames was described in the forth of the forth of the firm of the forth of the forth of the firm of the forth of the firm of the forth of the forth of the firm of the forth of the firm of the forth of the forth of the firm of the forth of the had made rapid progress.
